【参考范文】

Nowadays more and more people take delight in offering help to the needy. It is universally acknowledged that helping those who need help is a precious quality in our personal growth, which would bring us a sense of achievement and happiness. Where there is help, there is love. Only when love is contributed to the people in greater need, can it better achieve its value.

I can exemplify this conclusion with the Poverty Alleviation Project. In its spirit of helping the poor in backward regions, many college students, upon graduation, choose to work in poor areas where they are most needed and their knowledge can be made better use of. Seeing how excited the poverty-stricken people there are when they witness the changes these dedicators bring about, we can know how much the devoted love and help is cherished.

To create a more harmonious society, each of us is supposed to give a hand to anyone in difficulty. The best way, in my opinion, is to follow the above mentioned example by giving love to the people suffering hardships during the hours of darkness.
